Screening copies of the selected works will be sent in their original version. If the language is different from Spanish, it will be presented with subtitles embedded in the image in this language.

Copies of the selected works may be used in limited viewings for the selection committee and in the Festival's Palmarés samples organized by the festival, always for cultural and non-profit purposes, with prior communication to the producers of the intended use. make of them.

The selected films will be shown at the times and places that appear on the official festival website (www.navarrafestival.com), assuming that participants authorize these screenings from the moment they register for the Festival.

For the FILMIN-NIFF award, the selection committee will choose the 10 finalists for participation in the FILMIN-NIFF award, from among the films that wish to be in the online edition of the festival, through the Filmin platform. These films can be seen on Filmin during the dates established by the festival. The winner will receive the trophy at the NIFF gala in addition to a free registration for one year in FILMIN.

In any case, express authorization will be requested for its online broadcast through the festival's official platform in the event that they also opt for this modality. Acceptance of participation in online format will not be mandatory to participate in the in-person version of the contest.

With the registration of a work and the consequent acceptance of these rules, the owners of the works that are selected to participate in competitive sections give the Festival the right to project said works - always for exclusively cultural and non-commercial purposes - throughout the year and a half following the celebration of the Festival in the different extraordinary activities held outside the official week, whose purpose is the promotion of the festival.

In any case, these possible screenings will always be notified to the owner of the work and will always be free of charge to the public.

4. Sections

The Navarra International Film Festival 2024 will have the following sections:

- Official Section (International Competition)
- New Generation Section (International Competition)
- Navarrese short film
- Parallel sections

4.1. OFFICIAL SECTION

In the Official Section, international and Spanish short films* will compete under equal conditions, and all of them are eligible for the Official Section awards indicated below.

The Official Section will have its own specific Jury, which will award the corresponding prizes independently of the rest of the sections.

(*) All Spanish productions, co-productions where Spanish participation is greater than 40% and those works directed by filmmakers of Spanish nationality are considered Spanish short films, even if they have been produced by other countries.

4.2. NEW GENERATION SECTION

New Generation is a new competitive section whose main objective is to encourage the creation and audiovisual training of young people. We believe that the future of our cinema lies in the new generations and that is why the NIFF New Generation wants to look for those views that will be the cinema of tomorrow.

European works made by young people between 18 and 30 years old may compete in this section. All team leaders must be within this age range.

The works may not exceed 10 minutes in duration, not including the credits, and in no case may the total duration of the work exceed 12 minutes.

Attendance at the festival by the finalists is mandatory in order to receive one of the prizes. If the director cannot attend, any of the team leaders may attend.

The other criteria for this section are the same as those set out in the general considerations. New Generation will have its own specific Jury, which will award the corresponding prizes independently of the rest of the sections.
